Conference of Editors of Learned Journals

COUNCIL OF EDITORS OF LEARNED JOURNALS

The Council of Editors of Learned Journals is open to all editors of learned journals, bulletins, newsletters, and series, and their editorial staffs as well as to libraries and professional associations. CELJ acts as an important information forum for discussion of current editorial issues and is an Allied Organization of the Modern Language Association. CELJ seminars present innovative publishing strategies, while the workshops sharpen professional practices. The adjudication services offer a valuable platform for the resolving of editor/editor-member disputes.

Members benefit from free subscription to Scholarly Publishing, free display books at the MLA convention, group rates for TLS advertising and many other valuable entitlements. For CELJ membership information, contact John N. Serio, CELJ Secretary/Treasurer, Editor, The Wallace Stevens Journal, Clarkson University-Potsdam NY 13699-5750.
