Published from Liverpool since its foundation by E. Allison Peers in 1923

Bulletin of Hispanic Studies

Edited in one of the leading British University Departments of Hispanic Studies by Dorothy Sherman Severin, James Higgins and colleagues specialising in a wide range of Hispanic scholarship, the Bulletin of Hispanic Studies is the foremost journal published in Britain devoted to the languages, literatures and civilizations of Spain, Portugal and Latin America. It is recognized across the world as one of the front-ranking journals in the field of Hispanic scholarship.

Major scholarly articles from established academics and from younger scholars at the leading edge of linguistic and literary research cover a full canvas of themes and periods of study, and reflect a wide variety of critical practices and theoretical approaches. A major feature of the Bulletin is its extensive book reviews section, which encompasses books on a full range of Hispanic topics. Recent policy has resulted in a substantial increase in the number of articles published and a reduction of the waiting time between submission and publication of both articles and reviews.
